

Recommended Resources for the GRE

-by Gremlin's GRE

For Vocabulary:

1. Learn GregMAT's List of words (click here)
2. Listen to our playlist on GregMAT's List (click here for the lectures and here for the notes)
3. Learn synonyms from GregMAT's List with Synonyms (click here)

Tips: While learning a word, please look it up on google. They use the Oxford Dictionary for definitions. Avoid E2B dictionaries at all costs. Also, try to have a look at the list of synonyms. You don't have to learn them right then and there, but an array of synonyms will give you an idea as to how many shades of meanings a word can contain.

For Verbal:

1. Greg's Videos on TC-SE-RC (From either GregMAT or Prepswift Videos)
2. KMF 1500 TC-SE (highly recommended, click here to download)
3. KMF 350 RC (highly recommended, click here to download)
4. ETS Official GRE Guide & ETS Official Verbal Reasoning Guide

Tips: Try Prepswift first. It has shorter videos that will save you precious time. If you can grasp the subject matter, great! If you cannot, watch the long videos from GregMAT.

There are three kinds of questions in verbal:

1. Text Completion (1/2/3 Blanks)
2. Sentence Equivalence (1 Blank only)
3. Reading Comprehension

SEs are the easiest, then TCs, and finally RCs. So, while practicing, start with Sentence Equivalence and Single-Blank Text Completion questions. They are the easiest. Then slowly proceed to Double and Triple Blank Text Completion questions.

For RCs, first try to get the main idea of a passage. Then go for questions regarding the details. And finally go for inference questions.

For Quant:

1. Watch concept videos (Magoosh videos are the best, click here to download)
2. Complete Manhattan 5LB at least once.
3. KMF Quant (Medium and Hard Sections, click here to download)
4. ETS Official GRE Guide & ETS Official Quant Reasoning Guide

Tips: Avoid Manhattan 1-6. They're too basic.

All the aforementioned materials and many more can be found here in the following link:

<https://shorturl.at/fBCEV>